PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Time has again flown and we are well into the fall season with events like Pumpkinfest in Port Elgin and numerous fall fairs around the area. Leaves have been changing for several weeks but are generally still on the trees and the colours again brighten everything around them. Despite forecasts of extended rain we seem to have had a considerable amount of sunshine and a promise of continued fine weather for the coming month.

The summer season has been excellent for the events and activities of the Friends. The Huron Fringe Shop has had a very successful season in terms of visitors and sales, and the end of season 30% off sale will wrap up business in October. The Wild for the Arts Festival was a great success once more, both in terms of number of participants and number of attendees. One feature which was special was the sale of baked goodies by the "Hawks" of G.C. Huston elementary school. People loved the food and the enthusiasm.

The drama students of Saugeen District Secondary School once again provided excellent entertainment with a variety of wandering minstrel activities and their very popular “human statues”. The musical entertainments were another highlight. Many of the participants expressed how much they enjoy this particular event. Again this year the weather cooperated and helped everyone’s enjoyment.

We are trying something new this year to boost the understanding of people in the area that the park has lots to offer for local people and day trippers. We have begun a partnership with the Bruce County Museum in Southampton to put on a series of presentations at the museum to introduce locals to fun activities at the park. This began on September 15th with a Family Fun Night campfire presentation by park staff. The fire pit behind the museum was excellent as were the nature based stories and games, and a special presentation of the “Pree Tittle Ligs” by Stew Nutt. An old fashioned marshmallow roast rounded out the evening.

The next event will be a presentation titled “The Beautiful Bicycle” at 7:30pm on Wed. Oct. 12th at the museum theatre. More information is presented below.

We hope to have one further presentation in November and will provide notice on the Friends website.

One final note is to say that the Bird Blind is now well under construction led by Bill Thorne of the park staff with some added help by park staff who we have hired and some volunteers from the Friends. Work is proceeding well and we do expect o have the Blind in full service by the time of the Huron Fringe Birding Festival in May.

October 12 – The Beautiful Bicycle – 7:30pm

Friends of MacGregor Point Provincial Park present author, Laura Robinson for an evening presentation. This talk will prepare novice and seasoned cyclists alike for fall cycling--to McGregor Point Provincial Park and a little beyond. Using photos of autumn's grandeur and intimacy seen from the saddle of a bicycle, Laura Robinson will connect us to our own self, one another, and the world around us. Everyone welcome!

Huron Fringe Birding Festival 2012

Plans are well underway for the Huron Fringe Birding Festival which will be held May 25 to June 3, 2012. This will be the 15th Annual Festival.

If you have never been part of the festival or have been a participant in the past, here are some things you need to be aware of.

- Don't forget, this is a birding and nature festival. We provide events related to birding, wildflowers, landforms, insects and photography. Headquarters are located at the Visitor Centre; however, field trips make use of much of Bruce and some of Grey counties.
- If the registrar has your email address, you will not be contacted by mail. In an effort to reduce our environmental footprint, we will not be mailing postcard reminders. You will, however, receive an email reminder to the email address she has on file.
- Our bus tour – Bruce County Rocks – was a great success last spring; for this reason we plan to incorporate two bus tours into our schedule.
- The banquet contributed positively to the festival. It provided a great social opportunity and helped us to raise funds for the new bird blind at the Ducks Unlimited Wetland. We are taking into consideration concerns related to spacing of tables and the sound system as we plan this year's banquet.
- We are building on success. You will recognize many of the same leaders and a good number of new ones.
- We will be using a new expanded format for providing you information on the Friends of MacGregor Point website. We anticipate that it will help you prepare in advance for each event.
- As in the past, the program will be uploaded onto the Friends of MacGregor Point website on February 1, 2012.

The Huron Fringe Birding Festival Committee is a committee of the Friends of MacGregor Point. We are really excited about the 2012 festival. We trust that you find our program something that you can enjoy, whether you are new to birding or are quite experienced.

MACGREGOR PARK VISITORS- During Wild for the Arts, some of the Friends of MacGregor had the opportunity to photograph and ask a few questions of visitors. The questions were:

NEW BIRD BLIND - With our drier autumn, construction has begun on our new Bird Blind, which is situated on the Duck Unlimited Pond. Co-ordinated by Bill Thorne,; machines have cleared a road into the site: cement poured and construction begun on the blind itself, with the help of some volunteers. The walkway and stone-dust, which will also make this blind, wheel-chair accessible , also is hoped to be completed before the snow flies. With approximately $27,000 raised through corporate and private donations, the completion of the project with signage is currently on target.

New blind will eventually be camouflaged with more reeds, etc.

View from new blind to viewing tower.

WEB SITE - Our web site is in the process of being updated. Stay tuned for some wonderful changes. The newsletter will continue to be posted on the web, as well as emailed and mailed to non-computerites. You can still find us at www.friendsofmacgregor.org

Clear Skies Ahead

The Bruce Peninsula is one of the very last places in Southern Ontario that has minimal light pollution, attracting thousands of outdoor enthusiasts who travel to escape the city lights and to enjoy its Caribbean-like waters, cliffs and starry skies. Both of the Peninsula's national parks are designated by the Royal Astronomical Society as Dark Sky Preserves, and the Municipality of Northern Bruce Peninsula is a dedicated Dark Sky community. You may be wondering, what is all the Dark Sky talk about and why is it important?

Major benefits of a natural night sky:

1. Wildlife and Habitat Preservation - Animals require dark night skies and minimum excess artificial light to maintain biological cycles, foraging, predation and migration patterns. For example, MacGregor Point is an important migratory corridor for birds. A current phenomenon occurs when birds fly into light domes during the night, and because they can't instinctually fly from an area of light to dark, they become trapped there, flying in circles all night. By morning, they have expended large amounts of energy, haven't reached their destination, and have missed other important behaviours.

2. Socio-Cultural Starry skies are part of First Nations' oral histories and so preserving these main cultural enjoyments. Backyard astronomers and other nature enthusiasts enjoy viewing a truly starry sky, which is part of the Peninsula's local culture.
3. Economic A dark sky promotes sustainable economic development and tourism/cottaging potential for millions who are within a good day's drive to this premier dark sky destination.
4. Safety Concerns Glare from exterior lighting can create light contrast and shadows, which reduces visibility. Motion features in parking lots and public spaces can provide a form of alert not offered by areas which stay lighted all night.
5. Energy Conservation - Billions of dollars are wasted each year in North America on excess light. Efficient lighting can reduce energy consumption by 50%, while still providing adequate light.

As a homeowner, you can: Adjust your exterior lights! Ensure that lights point down, and if possible find fixtures in which the bulb is recessed up into the cap so that glare is reduced. Retrofit fixtures with timers or motion features. Buy bulbs which are yellow, soft or warm white in colour as they have a lighter impact on wildlife and attract fewer bugs. Consider using blinds at night and be aware of any 'light trespass' spilling onto your neighbour's yard. Our goal is to reduce the overall area, duration and intensity of light.

Harvest Dinner at the new E.S. Fox Observatory, October 29th

MEMBERSHIP -

Thanks to all the wonderful Friends who have joined or rejoined our group this year. Our membership has increased this year, with a total, before Pumpkinfest, at 106. Your membership fees help to build some marvellous additions to MacGregor Park (Rotary Trail; Bird Blinds, etc.) and help fund our incredible Naturalists at the Visitor Centre. Those of you that have included your email on your membership help keep our mailing costs down. If you have not been receiving your copy of “The Spotted Turtle”, on-line or through the mail, please contact Linda Mason: masonfam@bmts.com : 519-483-2321 or drop a note to 529 Creekwood Drive, Southampton, N0H 2L0

through the OPG(Ontario Power Generation) Tent and to the display for MacGregor Point Park and The Friends.

Leslie Elliot, from Southampton, brought her grand-daughter, Jaime Elliot, from Toronto, to Jaime’s first Pumpkinfest. Matt Cunliffe, one of our excellent naturalists, shows Jaime some of the different turtles found at MacGregor Point. Jaime was a little wary of the shells and furs at first, but Matt’s warm smiles and explanations won her over!
